++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry with sunny spells.

Today:
Early mist and fog patches across the south will be slow to clear. Otherwise a mainly dry and bright day is expected with some good spells of sunshine, perhaps just the odd shower in the north. Light winds. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Dry with long clear periods and with light winds, patchy fog develops along with a touch of frost in places. Towards dawn cloud is expected to increase over southern counties. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Thursday:
A bright start across the north but increasing cloud brings patchy rain northeast through the late morning and afternoon. The rain turns more persistent later as southerly winds strengthen. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Windy with outbreaks of rain Friday, but drier later with winds easing. Saturday looks dry with sunny spells and light winds but cloudier again Sunday with a little rain.
